Great video! I loved the points you talked about. I especially loved that you mentioned how many negative outcomes there are due to global warming. High temperature is one of the major ones and as you mentioned it affects plants and animals, as well as humans. It is important that we raise awareness about this topic before it is too late!

You mentioned many important things. The first thing people need to do in order to act is raise awareness. By sharing on social media, putting up awareness posters, creating petitions and public movements others can truly understand the seriousness of the global warming. It's important to understand that the animals and the plants are not the only ones suffering, but we are as well. Everyone can make a difference starting with themselves. Thank you for sharing this great video. :)

The sad part is that it is going to get worse if we do not act as soon as possible, or rather start acting upon it. Sir David Attenborough has a lot of books, documentaries and essays related to the things you said. It is paramount that people know these facts. Thank you so much for sharing your thoughts, especially on this proclamatory topic.

For the first time the University of Molise has taken part to an etwinning project! Students has had the opportunity to improve their speaking skills, and to learn how to use the twinspace ! so the double positive impact on the students has been showed by their tests results and by the final exams.

Caroline Daněk Kyzek
Thank you everyone for your participation. You have all done a wonderful job in posting videos and communicating with one another. Well done.

Aneta Naumoska
Thank you to Carmela and Caroline for extending the idea for collaboration and including Macedonia! Thank you to the students who shared their thoughts on the topics and who tried to find a common ground! This is what eTwinning projects are all about!
